

Below is our git repository on for all four projects. I think it speaks for its self. I had no help on the last two projects (3 & 4). All the work was done by my self (Ben Gustafson), this is the reason it was late both times. I'd like this to be considered in the grading.

Number of commits:

Number of lines of code: (This is a bit inflated because I added all of the relevant documents to the repository for the projects for later reference.)
